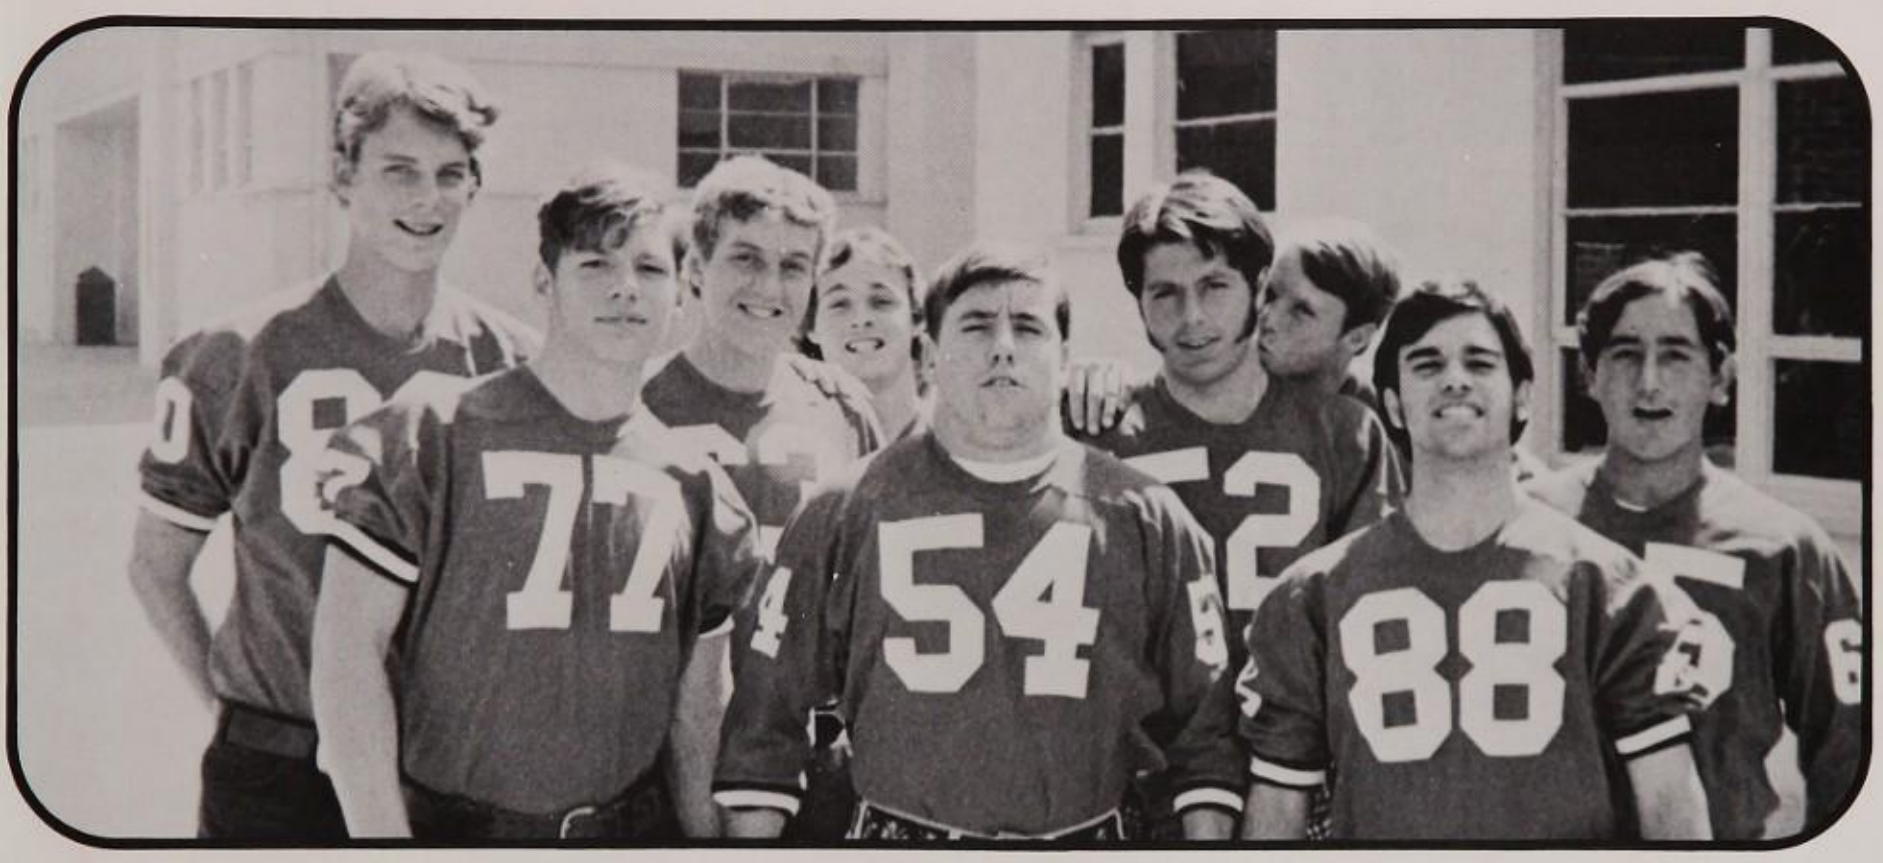
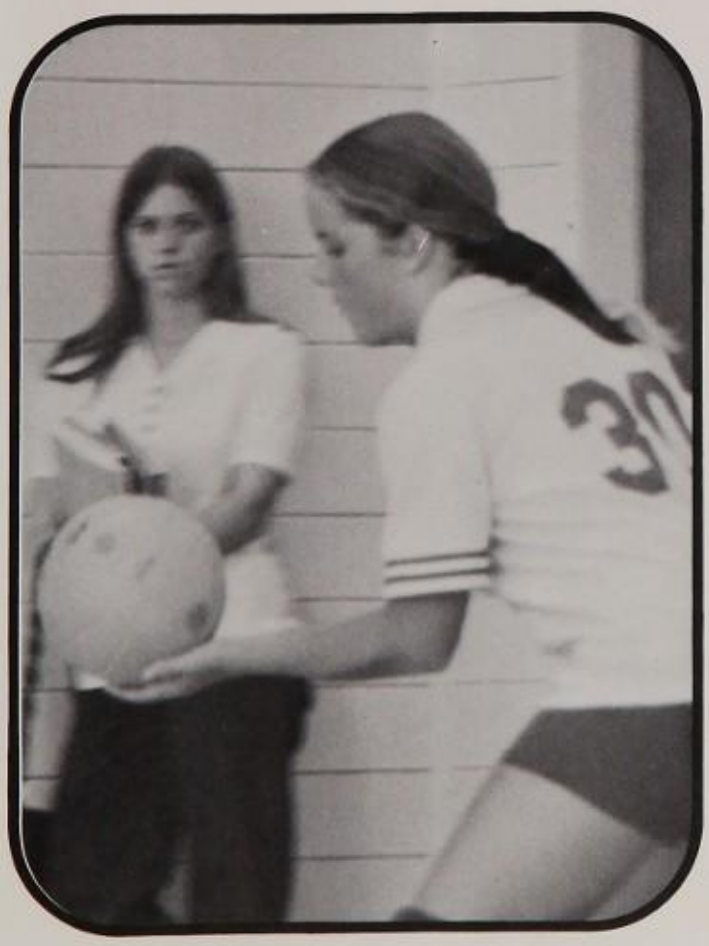
The Power





Scared Saracins
ran for the locker room as Hart celebrated an overwhelming victory of 20 to 0. That night the spirit was high and Hart showed Hoover what it takes. With the games against Agoura, Crescenta Valley, Burbank, Blair and Glendale, Hart fought vigorously for another win.

With a strong defense Hart's opponents held back the mighty Indians. Burroughs defeated the Hart team with a 36 point lead until the last quarter. Then Ken Long blasted thru for a touchdown to make the score 36 to 6.

The Hoover game was outstanding. In the first quarter the Indians were in the lead with six points. Soon after that the Tornadoes came on strong with a whirling wind and scored four touchdowns leaving Hart four points behind at the final gun.

Practice,
teamwork, power,

and more practice are the keys to a successful football season. Although the 1973 season was not a winning one for the Indians, they did make a good showing for their first year in the strong Foothill League.

The change in leagues lead to stiffer competition, but Hart's pig skinners spent many long hard hours in practice to live up to the demand. The final combination of individual effort and teamwork made it possible for Hart to stand proud, though not number one, in the league.

Two Indian maids chased braves

over hills and through fields. For the first time, two of Hart's fleet-footed girls ran with the cross country team. These two girls were Suzy Leathers and Melinda Reiber.

Mr. Grande, the cross country coach, had the pleasure of coaching many excellent runners this year. Last year Richard Burns set the record time for Hart's two mile cross country course, and this year Tom Cusick, who was voted the most outstanding runner and who was also the varsity team captain, came within twelve seconds of that record.

Some of the other excellent runners were Walt Van Der Heyden, most inspirational runner, Bill Mentor, most improved; and Brian Bishop was awarded a trophy for being the scholar athlete. The sophomore team did so well that all of them were awarded junior varsity letters, except for one, their team captain, Craig Rousseau, who received a varsity letter for being the most outstanding sophomore runner. All three teams got together and decided that Rose Martinez would be their sweetheart.

Wet and wild practices were held every day after school at the Newhall pool for Hart's first season of Water polo. They were members of the Marmonte League and three of the boys made the All Marmonte League team. These boys were Marty Kutylo, John Schmidt, and Jay Janus. Other awards went to Marty Kutylo, who won the "Algae Man" award for being the funkiest guy on the team. Brian Grade won the Scholar Athlete award for attaining the highest academic record while participating in water polo. Two awards, Most Improved Player and Highest Point Scorer, went to John Schmidt for scoring 12 out of 19 attempts. The team did quite well considering that they were a first year team competing in a well established league.

learned by some of the Volleyball members as Mrs. Flaherty took five of the girls to a volleyball convention in Carpenteria last summer. Under the . direction of Mrs. Flaherty the Varsity and J.V.'s finsihed with a 5-3 season. The girls got off to a good start by coming from behind to defeat Quartz Hill. In every league contest Varsity and J.V.'s had identical win-loss records. Junior Varsity tied for first place in the post season tournament at Canyon High School. Varsity pulled out a second place, losing only to Canyon. Next year will see a more experienced and seasoned team, and undoubtedly — a winning one.

record and a strong showing in numerous tournaments, Hart's 1973-74 wrestlers put together a super season under the direction of Coach Joe Hall. Wrestling in a CIF free lance league composed of 15 schools, Hart's mat men entered only varsity competition. All JV competitors forfeited their matches and wrestled only for exhibition due to the fact that only four were in that class.

Four wrestlers made outstanding showings, taking first places in league finals. They were Jim Luster, 20 wins, 4 losses, 13 pins; Jim Mayo, 24 wins, 7 losses, 1 tie, 11 pins; Jesse Montemayor, 15 wins, 6 losses, 7 pins; and Rod Simmons, 19 wins, 7 losses, 1 tie, 9 pins. Rod went on to compete in the State level competition. Jim Luster also received the Most Outstanding Wrestler award.

Battle scars

attested to hard work

by the sophomore and the sophomore reserve squads this year. With the change in league, these two teams replaced the earlier ones of Bee and Cee.

The 1973-74 school year brought many new things for these teams. First was the increased competition with the switch to the Foothill League. Long hours of practice were the antidote prescribed by the Indian coaches.

New to the school was Mr. John Clark, who took the sophomore team under his wing and worked with them to develop the type of team work necessary to win on the courts.

Mr. John Garner, last year's Cee coach, worked with the sophomore reserve squad to put polish on their action and increase maneuverability and all around basketball skills.

go all the way to C.I.F.

Hart Girls basketball team won the Desert Valley League Championship this year under the direction of Mrs. Evie Gilmore and Miss Cheryl Uhey. The girls participated in many tournaments and brought home trophies each time.

The Varsity team played a total of 12 games with only 2 losses. Co-recipient of the award for most valuable player were Maggan Karlsson and Ileana Companeitz, both girls were also selected as all-stars for the league team.

The Junior Varsity team won all but 2 of their 10 games. Junior Varsity team play was led into high scoring by Donna Annanie and Tami DeMars.

The team sweetheart this year was Rick Madrid who was formally presented at the team banquet that was held at the Lions Room on April 27, 1974.

With the great amount of experience gained by the girls on the Varsity and J.V. teams who are returning next year, a fantastic season is looked forward to.

made up the running part of the track meets for the Indians. Under the coaching of Mr. Jim Droz, and Mr. John Clarke boys with skills in the various field events gathered together and worked to form a unified team.

Coach Droz, new to the school, stressed long hard practices as a major way to develop skill, accuracy, and stamina needed for a winning team. Afternoons would find the track area full of boys exercising, warming up, and working on special skill areas with the help of both coaches.

A season marked by numerous wins found several Indians making it to the CIF playoffs. They included John McKinzey, Phil Muhl, and Tom Cusick.

Clubs and carts

represented Hart's golf team this year as they moved from hole to hole and course to course throughout the season. A 12 win, 3 loss record was achieved as a result of the efforts of the team members under the coaching of Mr. Henson and Mr. Bartak.

Tremendous potential was present on the team in the form of Pete Gillis, who shot a 75, and Kirk Denver. Dave Read and Jon Merambel were the only seniors on the team.

The team included two transfers, both juniors. They were John Milford, who scored a 77 over the difficult Valencia Golf Course, and did it with a cast on his right hand; and Tom Costello who also shot in the 70's.

Returning letterman John Webber gained fame for making a hole-in-one on the Number 5 hole at Valencia.

As in the past, the golf team shared the spotlight with the other spring sports, notably track, but Indian spirit and support was big enough to aid all events in chalking up nice records for Hart High.

Smashing victory of 40-2 ended the season for the girls softball team, under the direction of Mrs. Coleen Flaherty. Though they did not go to the CIF finals, they had an outstanding record of 6 wins and 4 losses. The JV team came out in first place in the Desert Valley League. Donna Annanie, third base; and Marla Johnson, center field both showed excellent performances throughout the season. On the varsity team outstanding performances were given by Lori Amendt, pitcher; and Kathy Barrick, right field. Michelle Woods, catcher, showed a new form of strategy by dropping the ball constantly so runners would advance and in turn they would be tagged out.

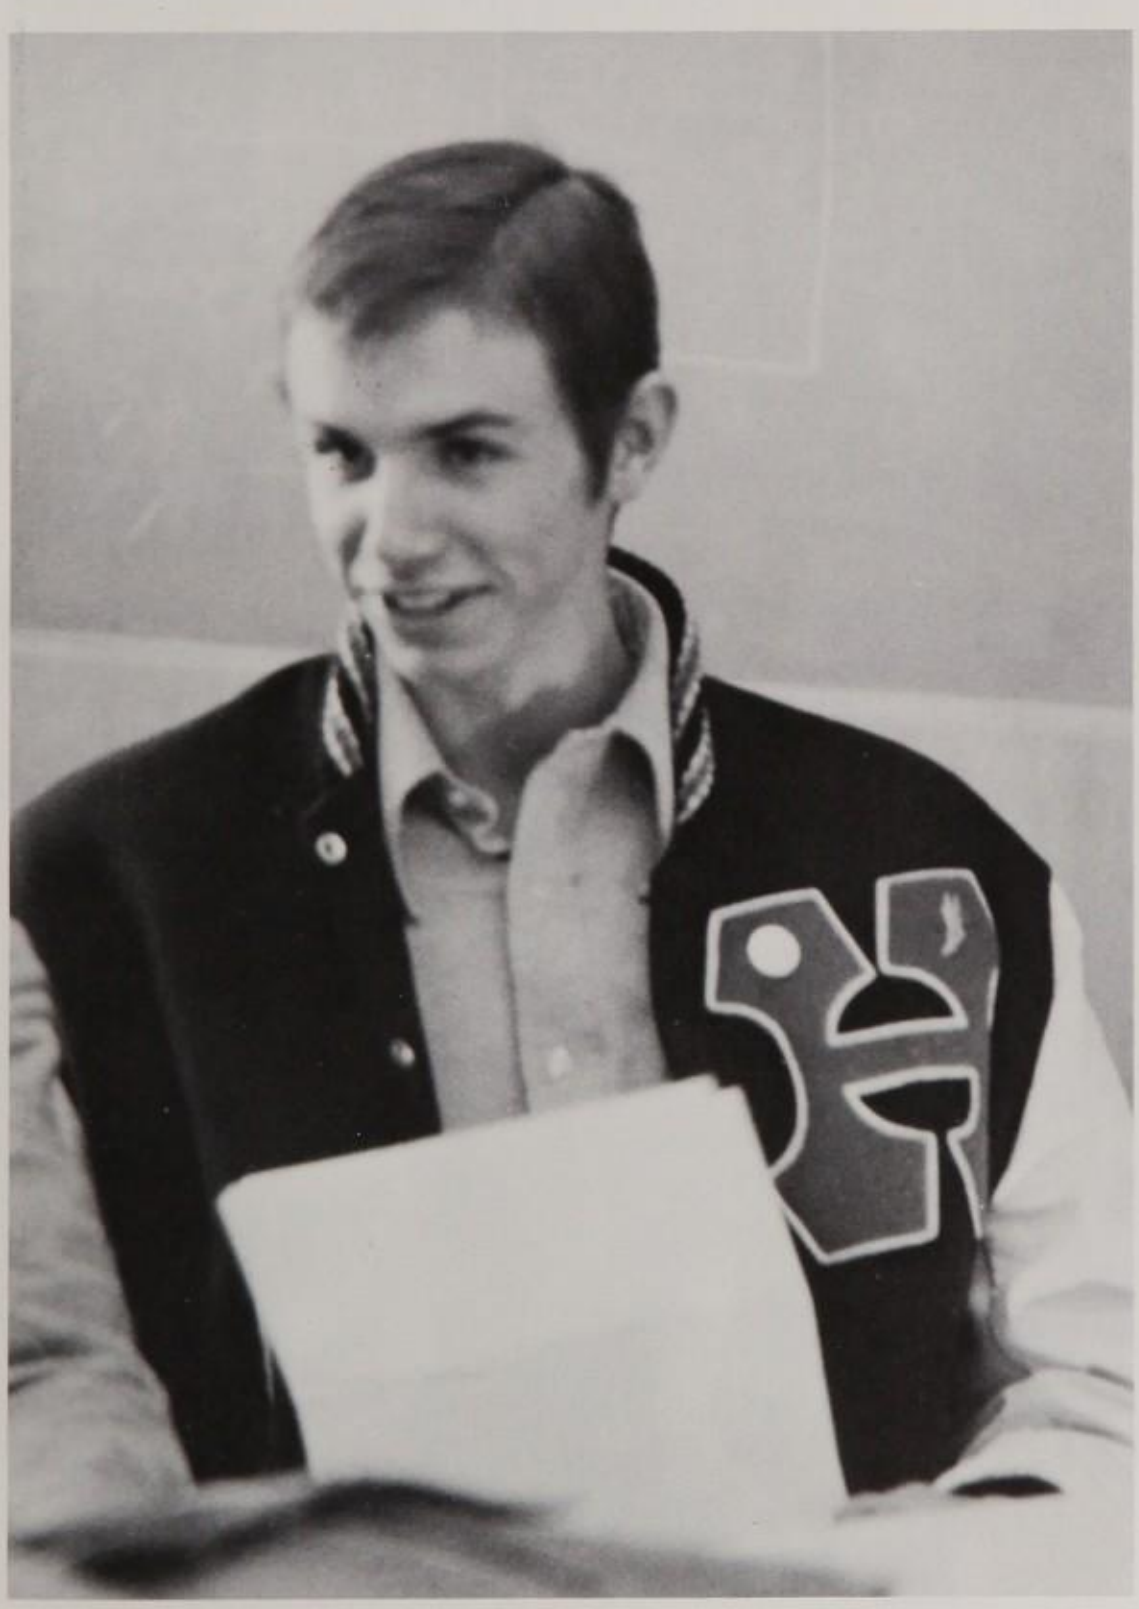
The Life



Understanding
people, cultures, and inter-state relationships were the basic goals of the American Field Service's foreign exchange student program and the Boys' and Girls' State programs.

For thirteen years Hart High has been fortunate enough to participate in these programs. Last year Marti West spent the summer in El Salvador, Sonsonate, Central America, living with the Mejia family.

In September, Margot Flores from Chile and Margaretha Karlsson from Sweden joined the Whitby and Forst families to learn first-hand of the American life style.

Each year Hart sends one boy and one girl to the Boys' and Girls' State programs. This year Dave Tanner went to Sacramento and Lisa Neely to Squaw Valley.

Concerning his visit there Dave Tanner stated, "It was a good experience." His role was Deputy Fire Chief. While he was there he won a swimming championship.

"It was educational", was Lisa Neely's summary of her week as a Party Platform member.

Invigorating
pep that inspired

reward was the key to Hart's showcase of spirit. Launching the festivities was the culminating beat of the Pep Band. They were joined by the sparkling performances of the pep squad.

Amidst the blaze of showey routines and exhilarating music the gym was quieted for the presentation of awards and pep talks by coaches and team captains.

Soon however, laughter was heard throughout the gym as the Clod Squad emerged. These rather shapely 1950's cheerleaders always provided humor and were a great assist to the rallies.

Inter-Class Competition proved to be the climax. Here the classes contended for the coveted Tomahawk — the symbol of spirit. Regardless of the decision, thunderous applause was released by the victorious class.

Some of the highlights throughout the season were the crowning of football and cross country captains, the faculty band, and the delightful antics of the drill team. Also arousing laughter, was the naming of the wooden Indian, Chief Tommy Hawk.

Indians hung ten

as they dressed to the theme of the Surfing Sixties. This was just one of the many fun-filled homecoming activities. All three classes exhibited outstanding spirit for the 1973 Homecoming. Seniors, however, surpassed themselves as they captured the Spirit Hart, won ICC at the Homecoming Rally, and entered a magnificent float to culminate their float competition.

Homecoming activities proved to be excellent pride motivators. Among them were a vibrant bonfire on campus followed by a rollicking car rally, a tug-o-war from which the seniors emerged all-powerful, and the traditional signing of the drum by seniors.

Hart's 1973 Homecoming, "Here's A Part Of Our Hart", was treasured by all spectators, but the real satisfaction lay in the eyes of the workers who could, at last, behold their labors in full glamour and splendor.

Chaos entered

as the fall drama "You Can't Take It With You," graced the stage with a mood of comical farce, romance, and delightful conflict.

The play involves two young lovers, Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby (Vicki Finsilver and Jeff Mallory) and their humourously different families.

Alice's family would be considered by most people, crazy and nutty, while Tony comes from a typical, straight-laced, conservative family. The fun really soars into action when the two families collide.

Other members in the cast were Martin Vanderhoff, "Grandpa" (Jeff Moir) who is wise and well-seasoned. Penny and Paul Sycamore (Pam Hartman and Marshall Commons) and Alice's parents. Paul and Mr. DePinna (Larry Roberts) fired up the performance with their toys of deafening power. The musician in the family was Ed Carmichael (Steven Smith) who was Alice's brother-in-law.

Alice's sister, Essie Carmichael, (Susan Word) had been dancing for eight years to the bells of Ed's xylophone, while Essie's Russian dancing teacher (Rick Whiteley) confides in Grandpa about Essie's dancing, "SHE STINKS," as does everything else Mr. Kolenkov sees.

The absent-mined Swedish maid and her southern boyfriend, Sonja and Donald (Jayne Walden and Jeff Friedman) added flavor to the play.

There was a lot of excitement when a tax-collector, Wilbur C. Henderson, (Russ Hamon) tried to collect twenty-four years back income taxes and blew his lid. Grandpa refused to pay because "he didn't believe in it."

for the 1974 TBA presentation. "To Be Announed," one of the musical highlights of the year, was performed to standing room only audiences on December 2 and 3. The Chieftain Jazz Ambassadors and Vocal Ensemble presented a program of varied pop tunes such as "Smoke On the Water," "Delta Dawm," "Killing Me Softly," and "Mack Arthur Park."

Mr. Lew White, trombone player and MC, was accompanied by Mr. Larry Thorton on the trumpet. Mr. White introduced the performers during the concert. Some of them were his twin, Dan Selmser; Rick Madrid, who was questioned as to which girl made his shirt; and young Dave Fender, whose voice has not yet had time to change.

The drum duel between Frank Sarro and Chuck Kirk thrilled the audience. At one point as they were battling it out on the drums, Frank as well as his cymbals were knocked over which added to the relaxed nightclub atmosphere.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Babko and Mr. Larry Thorton the evening proved a delight to all those who attended.

Snowflakes,
candy canes,

and a glowing Christmas tree gave a Winter Wonderland atmosphere in the 1973 Winter Formal. The theme was carried out with many clever decorations, designed by members of Girls League, which transformed the cafeteria into a most enjoyable wonderland.

Leaf River provided dance music for the 50 couples attending. Refreshments were served by Sheryl Gorrindo, Diana Shirey, and Carol Peralta of Girls League. The chaperones, Ms. Ronni Melnikoff and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Lovette, also enjoyed the magical Christmas mood of the evening.

For the first time there was no queen or court to preside over the gala dance. Girls League based this change on the lower degree of participation. However, the evevning of music, dancing, and romance passed smoothly into the memories of all concerned.

Christmas cheer was spread by the choruses and orchestral groups in the Christmas Concert on the Tuesday night before the day St. Nick was to arrive. Two tenth grade solos were performed by Sandy Hemminger and Lori Kister. A graduate from Hart, Jeff Hughes, came back to accompany on the piano. Bonnie Welch and Lynn Johnson played a duet on the violin while Chris Wullschleger accompanied on the piano. Once again the announcers were Mr. Larry Thorton and Mr. Bob Babko. The closing number, in which the concert choir was accompanied by the orchestra, was composed of two songs from the "Messiah", but the highlight of this holiday season show was when Rick Madrid came out of the Concert Choir to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas.

Bright lights,

music, and an appreciative audience made the evening of the Winter Concert enjoyable for all concerned. A formal performance by the instrumental and vocal music groups, the Winter Concert is an annual event at Hart High.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Larry Thornton and Mr. Robert Babko, a program of varied styles of music was put together for the listening pleasure of all who attended.

In an area somewhat removed from the major entertainment centers of Los Angeles, events of this sort are looked forward to by the community as well as the staff and students.

Students of the various music classes work hard all year and await a change to prove their skill, show their talents, and share their music with others.

Melodious sounds

for a late spring evening

filled the auditorium June 5 as Strictly Instrumental IV was presented. A musical program given by the instrumental music groups, under the direction of Mr. Larry Thornton, Strictly Instrumental gives the students, parents, and interested friends an opportunity to hear representative samplings of the groups' work.

The groups participating in the evening included: the Chieftain Jazz Ambassadors, the Indian Concert Band, the Hart Symphonette, and the Braves Stage Band. All of these groups perform throughout the year, usually as support, at a wide variety of events.

This, however, is a chance for their musical skills to be displayed to their fullest. The scope of numbers presented ranged from the Original Jazz Suite, to Embraceable You to Sinfonia in B Flat. Many outstanding students were given the opportunity of soloing in some of the arrangements.

Refreshments were available, courtesy of the Hart Instrumental Boosters, a group of concerned supporters which has worked hard during the year to give backing, of all kinds, to the instrumental music groups.

The highlight of the evening for the students and proud parents was the presentation of the awards. The Outstanding Bandsmen Award went to Mike Coyle, percussion, and Linda Christophersen, flute. The Outstanding Hart Symphonette Award was given to Bonnie Welch, alto clarinet. Mark Myers, saxophone, was presented with the Outstanding Chieftain Award.

"Sunshine On My Shoulders" and "Day By Day"

were just two of the more popular numbers performed by the various vocal groups at the annual Spring Concert. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Babko, the Concert Choir, Advanced Girls Chorus, Mixed Chorus, and Vocal Ensemble proved that they were not only experts in the performance of contemporary pieces, but also classical selections.

Rick Whiteley and Heather Tachernisch were featured soloists for Sunshine On My Shoulders and Day By Day, respectively.

Destruction and years of war invaded

the Hart stage when the spring play "Trojan Women" was presented. This dramatic piece, written over two thousand years ago by Euripedes, adapted into French by Jean-Paul Satre, and translated into English by Ronald Duncan, was directed by Mr. James Seely.

The play opens with a dark setting as it remains through most part, while Poseidon (Steve Smith) tells how his niece Pallas Athen Athene (Janet Wade) and another goddess had joined forces to destroy his city of Troy. He is ready to give up when confronted by Athene, who persuades him to help her gain vengeance against the Greeks.

After they leave, Hecuba (Jeanne Fullerton) the queen of Troy, and her chorus relate their sorrow and fear. Talthbias (Jeff Friedman) the Greek herald comes in and tells the women that they are to become slaves, with one exception, Hecuba's daughter, Cassandra (Lori Bysh).

A beautiful sunrise brings on the entrance of King Meneleus (Rick Whiteley) the conqueror of Troy, who has come to get Helen (Janis Bowman) the cause of the ten year war. He talks to Hecuba before he encounters Helen. Both of them would like to see Helen put to death. However, with the first look at Helen he forgives her.

That afternoon Talthbios informs Hecuba and his daughter-in-law Andromeda (Darla Goudey) that the Greek Assembly decided not to spare the life of the only male heir to the Trojan throne.

Exotic birds,
tropical atmosphere,

waterfalls, and a little hocus pocus would describe "Only the Beginning", the junior and senior prom, held at Busch Gardens on April 5, 1974. Boat rides, magic shows, dancing to the Town Criers, and a New York steak dinner added to the enjoyable events of the evening.

One of the highlights of the evening was the crowning of Brian Grade and Rhena Baker as king and queen. Their court included Dan Selmser, Dave Tanner, Lonny Bringham, Kevin Ellis, Elise Baker, Sue See, Lisa Neely, and Kari Hansen.

The mystery of the evening was a chauffer driven limousine parked by the gate at the close of the prom. About 200 spectators stood around the car waiting to see the departure of Paul Heinzman and his date Mickey Campbell.

The chaperones for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bair, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hannigan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Port, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sherriett, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sholl.

OME AND

Pure ingenuity, casual modes and a little sophistication would describe the mood at the Twenty-Sixth Annual Mother-Daughter Tea and Fashion Show, held in the Hart cafeteria on May 23, 1974.

To brighten the day, the fashion show presented a variety of styles, colors, and forms of apparel. Miss Eileen Scates and Miss Susan Moreland, commentators, announced the girls from Mrs. Aileen Walker's classes who had made and modeled their garments.

The highlight of the day was the presentation of the Girl of the Year award by Ms. Ronni Melnikoff, sponsor of Girls League. Of all the girls of the month, Miss Citizenship, Vicki Austin, was selected. The decision was the result of a teacher vote.

Mrs. Evie Gilmore's and Mrs. Louise Hedges' classes provided an assortment of breads, cookies, and pastries which was served with tea, coffee, or punch. Musical arrangements were furnished by members of the orchestra, under the direction of Lance Hagler.

Outstanding gals

personalities at the Mother-Daughter Tea as they anxiously awaited the announcement of the Girl of the Year. Selected by the girls on campus for their representation of certain personality traits, ten girls, one for each school month, were submitted to the staff for the election of the Girl of the Year Award.

This annual awarding of recognition for outstanding girls on campus is sponsored by Girls League. They submitted the initial nominations to the students, and organized the tea, which is the culmination of the event. At the 27th Annual Tea, each girl of the month was presented with a pastel nosegay. The Girl of the Year received special acclaim and a nosegay.

This year the award was presented to Miss Vicki Austin, who has been outstanding in many areas of service and scholarship during her three years at Hart.

Our last is our best was the senior class attitude as they began in September to make the Class of '74 rule. Under the direction of Mr. Doug Worley, advisor, the officers organized a series of activities that would help promote school spirit, class pride, and bring the seniors closer together.

Beginning with the first rally of the year, and culminating with the graduation exercises and grad nite, the vastly different individuals making up the class of '74 combined their efforts and talents to create cheers, floats, fund raising activities, and much more. The senior gift, a sun dial in memory of the late Ms. Dolores Prenn, will long stand as a memory of the class of '74 as well.

DAVE TANNER'S WIFE →

Obnoxious and active Juniors arranged to to take over the entire student body. Working tediously and rather rapidly, the Junior class achieved second place in the annual football homecoming float competition. Another major accomplishment was the planning of the Junior-Senior Prom. "We've Only Just Begun," which was held at the exotic Busch Gardens.

Under the direction of Mr. Dave Sholl, the officers led the Junior class in the sale of suckers, "75 Rules" buttons, and sponsoring an after the game dance.

was the topic for students of American Studies IA and IB. Students were able to comprehend more clearly, through investigations, research, and examinations, why we, as a nation, think, believe, and act as we do today.

The department chairman was Mr. Dean Roland, who taught Twentieth Century Wars and American Studies. These classes told how restless, ambitious, liberty-loving Europeans and their decendents built a new and better way of life in a new land, and became one of the most powerful and influential nations in the world.

The Social Studies Department consisted of classes in history, government, economics, and sociology. These classes helped to lay the foundation for an appreciation of America's heritage and destiny.

Planes, frogs,

stars, and test tubes

symbolized the course offerings of Hart's Science Department. Additions to the staff were Mr. Jan Tavares and Mr. Michael Glahn.

Multi-science was offered to juniors and seniors who had to satisfy the one year science requirement for graduation. The course was divided into four areas: aviation, physics, physiology, and chemistry, each taught by a different instructor.

For college-bound students, courses in chemistry, biology, and physics were offered. A large percentage of the students enrolled in science courses took Drivers Education and Health.

of ones was introduced in Hart's math classes. As the metric system gained popularity throughout the world, students were given the opportunity of individualized instruction by any of the Math department teachers.

Mr. Robert McElroy, department chairman, led the staff in the developing of courses to meet the needs of students on all levels. Mrs. Nancy Bulgin, a TA last year, returned as a full time staff member. Mr. Donald Lund joined the staff this year also, and Mr. John Clark taught math in addition to his Social Studies classes.

was an integral part of the learning of Spanish and French in the Foreign Language Department. While perfecting communication skills, students examined the people, traditions, and geography of the various countries involved. Guest speakers, culture days, and other interest inspiring activities made the study of a second language more than exercises in grammar and conjugation.

Mr. Billy Hughes was again department chairman, and worked with other teachers, students, and departments to help make the course offerings at Hart varied and useful for students with a wide variety of life-time goals.

Mrs. Maria Carlson, formerly a teacher at Placerita Junior High, was added to the department. Her assignment was Spanish. Mr. James Droz, new to the Social Studies department, helped in the Foreign Language Department by teaching Spanish V.

Mr. Tony Grande — Record Keeping, Occupational Math, Business Expertise, Cross Country Coach

Ms. Ronni Melnikoff — Business Law, Business Communications, Calculating Machines, Adv. Typing, Girls League Sponsor

Mrs. Frances Walters — Beginning Shorthand, Adv. Shorthand/Transcribing, Work Experience, Department Chairman

and use your money wisely was the recommendation of the Consumer Economics class. Under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Leathers, a new teacher, but not new to the Business Department, this class set up a Student Consumer Information Bureau. This group helped students deal with a wide variety of problems, from greasy foods to faulty equipment.

The Business Education Digest, first published in January, was sent out to parents in an effort to make the community more aware of the many services rendered by the Business Department for the students of Hart. The paper was written, typed, set and run on campus, as an example of the type of work Hart High students and teachers can produce.

Office Job Training, Office Practice, and Stenotyping were just a few of the many new opportunities offered to students. Mrs. Frances Walters, department chairman, with her dedicated staff of teachers, worked hard to develop a program that would benefit students by preparing them with saleable skills upon completion of their high school education.

Perfection,
satisfaction and pleasure

were the results of numerous hours of hard work by both students and teachers in the Fine Arts Department. Under the direction of Robert Babko, Department Chairman, classes in drama, choral groups, band, orchestra, crafts, and drawing were provided to "round out" a student's high school career. The instrumental groups, under the baton of Mr. Larry "Uncle Larry" Thornton, maintained the high standards set in past years. The added support of the Band Boosters, a group formed by interested parents, helped lend that something extra to game and parade performances.

Darkness and low temperatures greeted Chieftain and Vocal Ensemble members as they gathered at 7 a.m. for the early bird classes. However, it was worth it all, according to those involved, when the applause brought down the final curtain.

Stressing individual talent and the development of creative ideas, Mr. Dave Sholl and Miss Marianne Guho worked side by side with students in a wide variety of art classes. Enthusiasm was the key, and all over the campus, rings were being polished, people sketched, or some other art form was persued.

Three productions came out of the drama classes, "You Can't Take It With You," "Trojan Women," and the traditional "Hartburns" were presented to anxious audiences. Added extras included a presentation of the Senior Quad of the one act play, "The Lottery," performed by the advanced drama class.

Experiences that stimulated communication

were the basis of English department classes. Each of the many courses offered was designed to meet the specific needs and interests of students on all levels. Under the direction of Ms. Dolores Prenn, department chairman, the English department strove to help students develop basic communication skills and enrich their lives through exposure to the products of hundreds of years of creative thought.

Several classes were added to the curriculum in an effort to increase students' awareness of the varied types of writing and a world greater than their own. These were: Mass Media, Poetry, and Comparative World Literature. While Mass Media was concerned with newspapers, television, movies, and books as forms of communication, the other two classes studied a wide span of poets and authors, providing an excellent basis for discussion.

At the time of Ms. Prenn's unfortunate death in February, it became necessary to appoint a new department chairman. Mr. Doug Worley was elected to the position and aided the staff in maintaining the high caliber of studies for which Ms. Prenn had so diligently labored. At this time Mrs. Bernice Shaeffer, a former substitute, was drawn into the department to continue the teaching of Ms. Prenn's classes.

they took to the wheel in Drivers Training. One of the more popular classes on campus, as it is required to get a pink slip from the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Driver Education sequence was full all year.

The student first takes Drivers Education, the book part of the course, then moves on to the Simulators, under the direction of Mr. Richard Kilgore. The final phase is in-the-car Drivers Training, where students are given the opportunity to exhibit their skills under actual driving conditions.

The teaching staff for this sequence included: Mr. Fran Wrage, Mr. Jerry Bartak, Mr. Alan Gilreath, and Mr. Steve Spraker. Their nerves of steel and extreme patience were valuable assets to their assignment.

Giving students an atmosphere conducive to study was only one part of the librarian's responsibility. Mrs. Therese Kay, assisted by Mrs. Ruby McElroy, and aides Mrs. Tana Kerr and Mrs. Dody Crawford, worked hard to improve the quality and quantity of materials available to the students.

New students were given introductory instruction in the use of the library, and other classes were assisted with research and extra credit projects. During the weeks preceding finals, tables were put in the patio area so students could talk quietly while studying. The library itself became a very quiet study area for serious students.

The Factions

Ardent, zealous, energetic, and hearty support for all sports was the Spirit Squad motto. To finance their spirit inspiring activities the girls sold buttons, candy, popcorn, and rooter pom poms.

Although small in number, there were eight girls on the squad, their work was seen everywhere. Posters advertising each event, with special messages for some participants, mysteriously appeared at the proper time.

Each year Spirit Squad, under the direction of Miss Diana Lee, sponsors two major events: Basketball Homecoming, better known as Hoop-de-la, and Sprolic Week. Hoop-de-la was a day full of spirit. It began with a rally, continued through the basketball game, reached a high point with the announcement of Debbie Nemback as queen, and concluded with a well-attended dance.

Sprolic came just as the springtime dulls started to settle in. The week of fun-filled activities was climaxed on Friday, May 3 with a carnival. Various clubs and organizations were invited to set up booths and were able to use this opportunity to raise funds for their own projects.

Each girl held an office in the group. They were: Susan Moreland, president; Denelle Jinks, vice president; Vicki Austin, secretary; Nancy Therasse, treasurer; Melinda Reiber, business manager; Patty Bond, activities chairman; and Susie Leathers, publicity chairman.

Underground
plans for secret events

resulted in special attention for the various athletic teams during the year. Boxes of goodies, mysterious notes, bow ties, baked goods, and boutonnieres were just a few of the gifts the 1974 Pep Squad used to carry out their goal of full support for all teams.

Work, in the form of many long, hard hours of practice, was also a vital part of the Pep Squad's activities. Under the direction of a new sponsor, Mrs. Micky Malpasuto, the girls began developing routines shortly after their selection in the spring of 1973. The result was a series of sharp, snappy routines at the first rally of the year. Each game and rally added skill and ease to the overall quality of the Pep Squad show.

Their efforts were acknowledged by the Quarterback Club in the form of a special award at the Football Banquet. Spirit Squad, another pep-inspiring group, gave a kidnap breakfast for the girls.

Combining wits
laughter and attainments

presented a means by which work was achieved yet humor and fun were not forgotten. The varied groups of Clod Squad, Letterman, and Mascot, although different in name, strove to better Hart in their own particular manner.

Clod Squad featured the antics of 1950's cheerleaders, Lori Amendt, Linda Dutro, and Renee Sauve. They swang and moved in such a fashion that they continually sparked laughter at pep rallies. These shapely Hart High supporters devised their own skits and were an asset to the comic portions of the rallies.

Mascot Michele Woods, with her zealous personality, was inspiring as leader of spirit and promoter of pride within the school. She diligently planned rallies, practiced regualarly and strove to maintain a high caliber of sportsmanship among the student body.

Letterman are not to be excluded from these groups of buffoon-like workers. They too sponsored several worthwhile activities throughout the year. The Tim Richardson Dance was given in an effort to provide funds for a Crescenta Valley student. Earlier in the season one of their players was severely injured. They also sponsored the wrestling team's trip to league finals and were the masterminds behind the delightful Donkey Basketball Game.

Thinking, typing and designing layouts kept the Smoke Signal staff very busy this year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Julie Goodman, the staff worked hard to produce the school paper.

The editions were 8½″ by 11″ and consisted of four to six pages. The paper was divided into four sections. They were news, editorials, features, and sports. This year's Smoke Signal was printed on campus on an offset printing press by Mr. John Garner's Graphic Arts classes.

The page editors were John Drew, Carl Heintz, Lee Fout, and Lance Hagler. Business Manager was John Drew. Pictures were donated by Corni Ramigani, Lance Hagler, and Susan Henley. Copy Editor was Jean Dickinson first semester and Kathy Gordon second semester. Managing Editor was Jean Dickinson. The position of editor-in-chief was passed around to give several students the opportunity to experience the rewards and pressures of such a vital job. Editors included: Priscilla Each, Jean Dickinson, Lauri DeVries, and John Drew.

Music for kings,
living, and general

entertainment was provided by Hart's own radio station, KFSR. Noon movies, such as the Poseidon Adventure, 2001 A Space Odyssey, and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, earned money to re-establish KFSR.

Advisor, Mr. Al Hanson helped students in their endeavor under the direction of officers Gary Platak, president; Mike McGuire, vice-president; Dusty Atkins, Head of Disc Jockeys; and Jeff Hopkins, Head of Technicians.

Mr. Tony Grande advised Scuba Club with Marc West, president; Teri Taylor, vice-president; Marianne Homenick and Denise Hurd, secretaries; and Paul Wenzel, Dive Master. The Scuba Club's main goal was to get people to obtain their scuba diving license. The club organized outside activities for certified divers. Their activities consisted of beach dives, boat dives, and Catalina trips.

Referee Mr. Jan Tavares had the say in The First All Hart Faculty-Student Chess Tournament. Mr. Tony Grande and Mike Goddard competed very tensely for the championship. Their last move determined the winner — Mike Goddard.

Scholastic, cultural, and spiritual achievements were the main goals of the California Scholarship Federation, the American Field Service, and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, respectively.

As in the past, the California Scholarship Federation was guided by counselor Mrs. Lucie Rea. They sold fruitcakes to raise monies for the Hart Scholarship Federation scholarships.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a non-denominational organization advised by Mr. Ed Murdock. It was open to all who were interested, both male and female. Guest speakers were very much a part of the FCA program, giving the members a chance to learn by comparing their thoughts and beliefs with those of others.

The American Field Service worked to make funds available for the exchange student program. This student branch of a much larger adult national group is concerned with the sharing of culture, ideas, and friendship through the exchange of students between countries. They were sponsored by Mr. Lynn Lozar.

the marquis donated by the Class of '73 in an effort to call attention to the water polo season. This was just one of the year long tasks of the Executive Board.

New to Hart this year was Mr. Ben Greene, Dean of Activities, and sponsor of Executive Board. Working with two executive boards, Mr. Greene strove to make the new ASB constitution an easily workable part of student life.

This year Hart had two boards due to the new constitution which calls for the election of officers in January. This allows for greater carry-over between school years.

The Executive Board met every day during second period to conduct the necessary business of the ASB. They planned fund raising activities, spirit promoting events, and coordinated all other on-campus activities. They gained knowledge and experience in business matters through the developing of the ASB budget, and the use of Parliamentary Procedure to conduct their meetings.

invaded the Senior Lawn as the Latinos Unidos held a food sale. Offering excellent, home cooked food at reasonable prices, the club took advantage of Sprolic Week to increase their funds.

Under the direction of their officers: Susan Lopez, president; Sharon Carillo, vice president; Tommie O'Banion, secretary; and Pat Mendez, treasurer; the members prepared a wide variety of Latin foods.

With the help of advisor Mr. Gene Lines, the club also held a dance, sold popcorn, and had a car wash.

Seconds tick by
as Indian shutterbugs

anxiously await their just-developed film. With fixer, D-76, and hypo-clear splashing around the H-1 lab, Photo Club members developed and printed pictures they had taken both on and off campus. With the ever-increasing interest in photography, the growth of the Photo Club was natural. The only necessity for joining the club was a desire to work, and a camera.

Mr. Tony Lovette, the advisor, along with officers: Mark Furniss, president; Dave Bubnash, vice president; Jerry Bronstrup, treasurer; Tony Mattias, public relations; and 26 members, planned field trips to the beach, the mountains, and various shows and workshops. On these picture taking outings, students could be seen snapping away at various angles with everything from a Kodak Instamatic to a 35mm Pentax.

The memories of all these visits and the 1973-74 school year will be more vividly retained through the work of these who captured single moments, frozen on film, for future consideration.
